

Come hither Boy

from Jane Chattock's book 1832

attributed to John Hilton

(original in F)

$\bullet = 96$

1
Come hith - er Boy, come hith - er Boy: if

2
way, then come a - way, and hear - ken

3
of - - - ten bor - row, sel - dom lend, and

1
thou wilt learn to thrive, then come a - way. Then come a

2
to this less - on here to - day. You must

3
ne - ver, ne - ver, ne - ver, ne - - - ver pay.

Come hither Boy, come hither Boy:
If thou wilt learn to thrive, then come away.
Then come away, then come away,
And hearken to this lesson here today.
You must often borrow, seldom lend,
And never, never, never, never pay.

Each voice sings the lines in order 1,2,3. A new part enters when the preceding part reaches *
The fermatas mark where the singers should end in the final pass of the round.